CORNELL UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

1920-21

To the Acting President of the University:

Sir: I beg leave to submit my annual report of the conditions and needs of the University Library together with the work done, so far as records indicate, during the year ending June 30, 1921.

The year has been a busy one for all those connected with the Library, both in the matter of additions made to the Library and in the use made of the books.

The unfilled orders of the past few years which have been pouring in and the exceptional opportunity to buy materials long needed have operated to greatly increase the accessions.

The addition of one floor to the west stack together with additional wall presses in various parts of the stacks has enabled us to relieve the congested conditions on the adjacent floors which greatly facilitates the use of books shelved on these floors. The addition of another floor in the south stack, already provided for, will likewise relieve the situation in that division of the book stacks.

With the additional housing provided and under construction, the capacity of the present building will be reached within the next two or three years at the normal rate of growth. Anticipating this time, an addition to the building will need to be under consideration before this period expires.

When a large library is once built up, the most important consideration is shifted from acquisition to facilities for using. While it is still important to make all necessary additions, it becomes more important that the materials already acquired should be made available for use in the most efficient ways. To this end, an increase in the force of library workers is a constant necessity, not alone for the preparation of materials for use, but for keeping in order and properly recording all materials that are being used, that every reader's needs may be promptly met.

The Library loses this year from its force of workers Mrs. Minerva Stubbs Beach, who has had supervision of the Periodical Division for some years and who willingly remained during the trying period of the war although desiring to be released earlier. Miss Lillian Leland has been transferred from the Catalogue Division to the position left vacant by Mrs. Beach. Miss Emma Runner, a graduate of Cornell, who was trained in the University Library and who has been in the Library of Congress for some years, returns the coming year to become supervisor of the catalogue work. Miss Runner's long experience in Washington and her familiarity with the Library of Congress system of classification and cataloguing are fitting, because we are gradually adopting this system for classifying University Library books.

Although our Library still ranks fourth in size among the University Libraries of the United States, we are still far below the other large libraries in the matter of the number of library workers and the annual budget for operating expenses of the Library, but with the increased growth of the Library we are bound to provide more assistance.

ACCESSIONS DIVISION

The Library has taken advantage of the unusual opportunity offered, and acquired a large number of sets of scientific and literary periodicals and society publications, thus broadening the foundations for research work for all time, as such materials are never superseded by later publications, as is often the case with monographic literature.

Some German periodical publications issued during the war period are still incomplete, owing to conditions as previously stated. The present plan is to reprint such as can no longer be had, providing the publishers will give their permission which, in some cases, has been withheld. The whole matter is in the hands of the committee of the American Library Association which is acting for a large part of the American libraries.

The general Library has added during the year 13,828 volumes some of which have not as yet been catalogued and therefore do not show in the work of the Catalogue Division.

The largest additions have been made in the fields of English history, some 900 volumes, and travels and scientific expeditions about 250 volumes. Notable additions have also been made in early botanical works. Among the more important additions might be mentioned:

- Wallich, Plantae Asiaticae rariores. 1830-32.
- Dodoens, Stirpium historia. 1616.
- Hooker, Exotic flora. 1823-27.
- Lobelius, Plantarum seu stirpium historia. 1576.
- Andrews, Coloured engravings of heaths. 1802-9.
- Roxburgh, Plants of the coast of Coromandel. 1795-1819.
- Sowerby, English botany. 1863-72.
- Lambert, Description of genus Pinus. 1828-37.
- Lawson, Pinetum Britannicum. 1884.
- Pierre, Flore forestière de la Cochinchine. 1881-99.
- Wight, Illustrations of Indian botany. 1840-50.
- Laws against witches*. 1645.
- Corpus scriptorum christianorum orientalium*. 38 vols.
- Shirley, The example. 1637.
- Daniel, Whole work in poëtrie. 1623.

Aside from the current periodicals and government documents we have added to the library 1830 volumes of periodicals and publications of learned societies. A partial list is as follows:

- Miscellanea di storia italiana*, 1862-1910.
- Amsterdam Academy. Verhandlingen*, 1853-1917.
- Société d'histoire naturelle d'Autun. Bulletin* 1888-1911.

Special mention should be made of a handsomely bound edition of Theodore Roosevelt's works and works about him which was given by E. H. Hooker, '94.

PERIODICAL DIVISION

The library has received currently during the year 2,285 periodicals of which 1,077 were by exchange or gift. The irregularity of many of the foreign periodicals has disturbed the usual order of receipts and consequently the records are necessarily incomplete. The volumes of periodicals as far as completed are bound for permanent preservation. The lack of facilities for binding these volumes in Ithaca has necessitated sending many to Syracuse for binding. Most large libraries now are equipped with binding facilities within the building and when the matter of enlarging our library building is taken up, facilities for binding in our library should be considered.

Periodicals bound	3256
Periodicals kept on open shelves.	2864
Periodicals kept in Reading Room	754

CATALOGUE DIVISION

The books as received have been classified and catalogued as fast as the workers could handle them, but at times the work has fallen behind owing to illness and an insufficient working force. All the Wason periodicals have been classified by the Library of Congress system and the special collection of books given for Risley Hall by President and Mrs. White has been shelved and entered.

Number of written cards added to the general catalogue. . . .	13,478
Number of printed cards added to the general catalogue. . .	6,101
Number of cards added to the L. C. catalogue.	30,461
Number of additional cards made for the Wason catalogue	1,282

The annual list of publications by University Officers, as appended to the President's report, has been prepared by the Catalogue Division.

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

The White Historical Library has been in charge during the year of the acting curator, J. A. C. F. Auer, who has made a complete inventory of the books in the White library while on duty during the hours of opening. Professor Burr's withdrawal does not mean that the library loses his counsel and aid in all matters that concern this library. There is still one part of the White catalogue that is to be done, dealing with Witchcraft, and we are expecting that Professor Burr will find time a little later to finish this work, already well under way.

The Icelandic Collection has added some 208 volumes to the collection, and the Curator has issued the thirteenth number of Islandica in accordance with the terms of Mr. Fiske's gift to this collection.

The illness of Miss Mary Fowler left the Dante and Petrarch Collections without a custodian during the past year. However, she was able to return for some work on the supplement to the Dante catalogue which is now in press and it is expected that it will be completed by the 600th anniversary of Dante's death, Sept. 14, 1921.

DEPARTMENT LIBRARIES

The record of books in department libraries has to do with such books only as are the property of the general library deposited there, and does not include such books as may be the exclusive property of the department.

A marked difference is to be noted in the number of such books charged against the Agricultural College library, which is accounted for by the transfer from the general library to the College library of a large number of bound experiment station reports, etc. that were jointly owned by the two libraries. These are now counted in the State College Library inventory.

Volumes deposited in Department Libraries:

Architecture.	2,300
Chemistry.	5,346
Civil Engineering.	5,632
Entomology	4,139
Sibley College.	2,719
Prudence Risley.	694
Hart Memorial library.	2,251
Flower Veterinary library.	5,925
Goldwin Smith Hall library.	2,492
Van Cleef Memorial library.	1,511

STACKS DIVISION

The routine work of this division has been disturbed by the addition of the new floor and wall presses, which necessitated the moving of a large number of books not alone in the west stack where the addition was made, but also in the White Library where the conditions were so congested that many books had to be removed to other stacks.

The Wason collection, so far as classified and catalogued, has been placed on the top floor of the west stack and eventually the whole collection, including the manuscripts and hand-painted volumes, will be brought together there.

The annual inventory of library books deposited in laboratories and department libraries has been made and the missing items recorded for replacement.

READERS DIVISION

The library has been open to users during the year 309 days, and during the period of instruction has remained open six days in the week until 10:30.

The number of registered borrowers during the period was 1,804, which takes no account of those using the library without registration.

The recorded use of the library is as follows:

Reading room.	133,389
Seminary rooms.	3,247
Departments and laboratories.	6,649
Home use.	39,278
Foreign loans.	253
Borrowed from other libraries.	103

The recorded use as shown by the above is the largest thus far reported. The increased use of books in the reading room indicates the need for greater accommodation for readers. Although the space for readers has been enlarged by the transfer of the periodicals to the lower floor, and the creation of the reference room, there is beginning to be pressure for more room. Plans for additions to the building may well take this need into consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLARD AUSTEN,
Librarian.
